++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Patchy rain overnight. Chilly to start, but fine on Sunday.

This Evening and Tonight:
Becoming cloudier from the north for a time during the evening, with a little patchy light rain and drizzle moving southwards. Becoming drier and clearer again during the early hours, with a slight frost possible as winds fall light. Minimum temperature -1 deg C (30 deg F).

Sunday:
Dry throughout, with some pleasant sunny spells after a chilly start. Temperatures will be a little lower than on Saturday, but near average for the time of year. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Mainly fine on Monday, but becoming windier through Tuesday, with some rain possible later. Perhaps drier again Wednesday but probably on the cloudy side. Near-average temperatures overall, with overnight frosts.
